Brief BIO:

DoB: 6th December 2002.

Age: 22 years.

Hometown: Rangpur, Bangladesh.

Parent's Occupation: Lecturers (Both).

Brief Intro:

Business is all about continuous growth and transformation which is happening practically to every organization in the world. I consider myself the right guy to sell anything which is the basic law of business. In my life, I have sold great ideas and dreams and thus achieved the awards listed later. My convincing capability is top notch. I can generate value through my presentation and speaking. I am good at connecting people to value and value to product and vice versa. I know value, product and people. I also know money is a tool to gain real money which is something valuable. This value is everchanging by the manipulation of speakers like me. For that belief I want to apply to this internship to grow and be of use in the real world!
